VACCINATION

Polio Booster Vaccine

OUR OFFER

In partnership with SEL ICS, we successfully delivered a multi-channel offer of the polio booster campaign to children aged 1 to 9.

OUR IMPACT

The impact of the campaign included raising awareness and sensitising the population, particularly underserved communities, about vaccine preventable communicable diseases and the importance of vaccination.

OUR FEEDBACK

Community clinics were child-friendly and provided activities to engage children whilst waiting for their vaccination and received very positive feedback from families. Children and their families also valued the convenience of accessing vaccinations within the local community, including libraries, pharmacies and hospital trusts.

OUR SUCCESS

Key to the campaign's success was the system collaboration and partnership working, including robust data sharing, which should be built on for future vaccination programmes, including improving the coverage of the routine childhood vaccination programme.

OUR ENGAGEMENT

Local delivery also included engagement with residents, particularly those with protected characteristics living in areas of high deprivation, to understand likely barriers with the view to resolving them. The goal for engagement activities were to address inequalities in vaccination uptake.

OUR DELIVERY

To date, the campaign delivered 7,619 vaccinations, of which more than 17% was delivered out of community clinics, which reinforces the need to apply trusted community assets when delivering NHS campaigns.

NEIGHBOURHOOD & WELLBEING DELIVERY ALLIANCE

OUR COLLABORATION

The Grassroots Programme was initially developed to address low vaccine uptake and vaccine hesitancy during the Covid-19 pandemic, but is now moving into phase 3 with additional organisations.

OUR REMIT

We collaborated with community groups who could lead on promotion and engagement of the vaccine/health inequalities and ensure there is lasting value.

OUR IMPACT

We wanted to avoid traditional methods of communication as they are already in place but welcomed ideas that would enable a deep dive in communities to understand the lack of uptake of the vaccine and health and wellbeing issues.

We encouraged opportunities for discussion that speak to those communities that are most mistrustful of traditional methods of engagement.
